Level 2: Outers & Aspects

Thank you so much for joining us for Astrology for Creatives with Rachel Lang and Bonnie Gillespie. Woo HOO! We're thrilled you're here!

Please reference your separate PREP WORKBOOK for the how-to on rendering your chart in Whole Sign houses, learning the glyphs and vocabulary, and preparing yourself for our six weeks together. You'll also find the schedule and link for our Zooms in the PREP WORKBOOK.

This document is your ever-growing curriculum WORKBOOK for the course, complete with prompts and activations. Each week, we will add to these pages based on what we cover in the Zoom. If you have any questions, we welcome you to our membersite, where the comments area is open and ready for you to participate as much as you'd like!

If you cannot join us for any week's live Zoom meeting, replays will go up on the course pages within 24 hours for you to enjoy. Please keep the convo going in the comments area! We're there for you and so excited for the growth we'll all witness during our time together!

Overview

PLANETARY RULERS: TRAD

ASTROLOGY FOR CREATIVES

As we covered in your PREP WORKBOOK, there's a little blending of traditional astrology and modern astrology when it comes to extending rulership to the outers. Even some modern astrologers stick to traditional rulership since rulership is an ancient astrological concept. Still, we want you to have a sense of the ways the outers will flavor our convos. Here's the Chart Harmony graphic for rulership using traditional planets and luminaries only.

PLANETARY RULERS: MOD

ASTROLOGY FOR CREATIVES

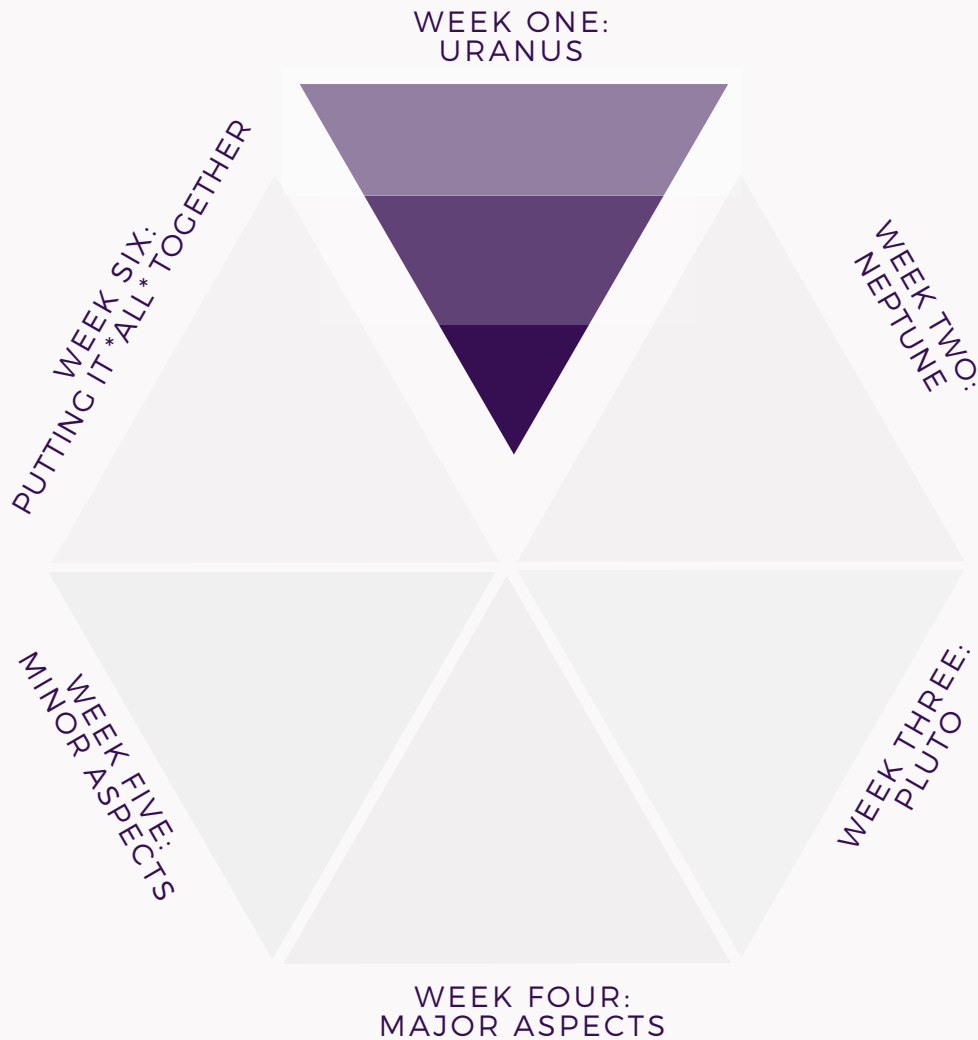

This table showcases the modern rulers and their glyphs alongside the traditional ones. Ask yourself if you feel more connected to these outer (generational) planets when it comes to their modern rulership of signs. Can you see commonalities in the rulers for Scorpio, Aquarius, and Pisces?

Sign	Glyph	Ruler(s)	Glyph(s)

REVIEW: NEPTUNE

Week 2

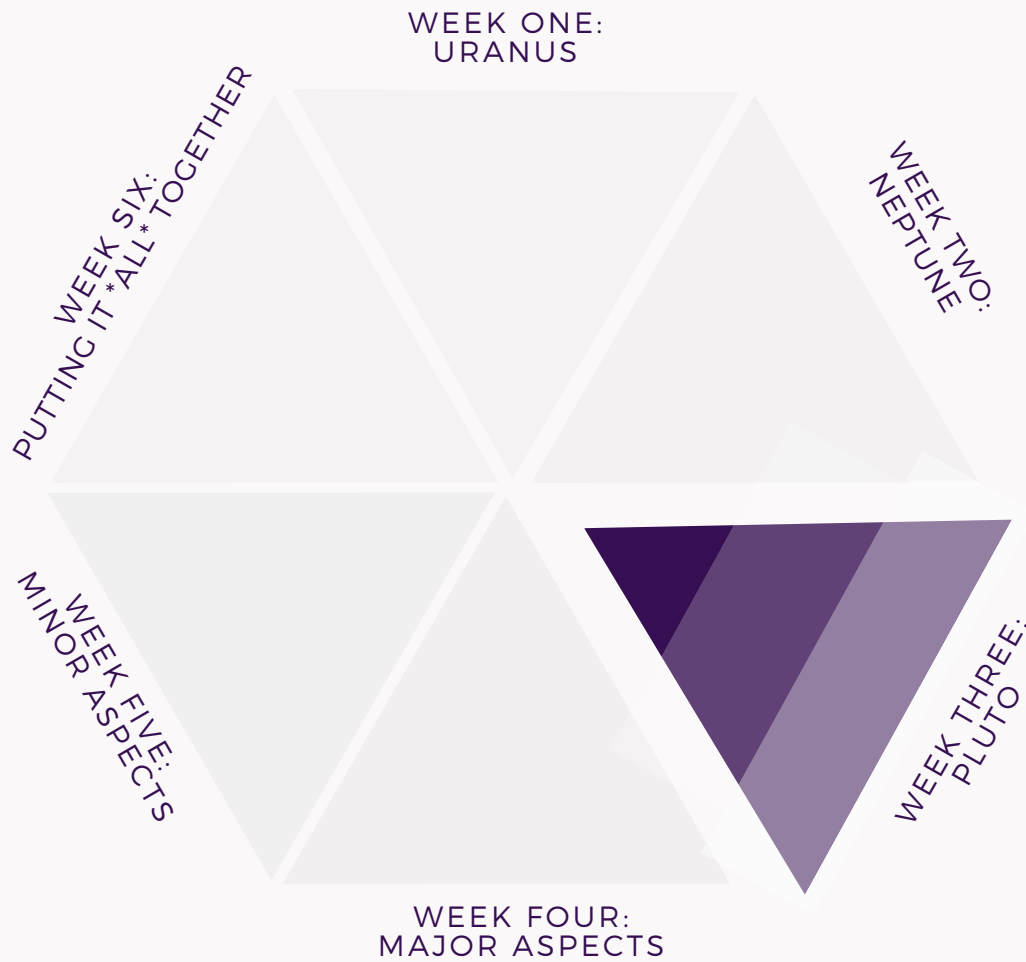

Neptune's lack of clarity is often exactly what we need. In a world where hustle culture is the norm, the murkier truth of Neptune's magic is uncomfortable to trust. Good. Trust it anyway. It's whispering to you in beautiful ways!

WEEK THREE CONNECTION

THE OUTERS

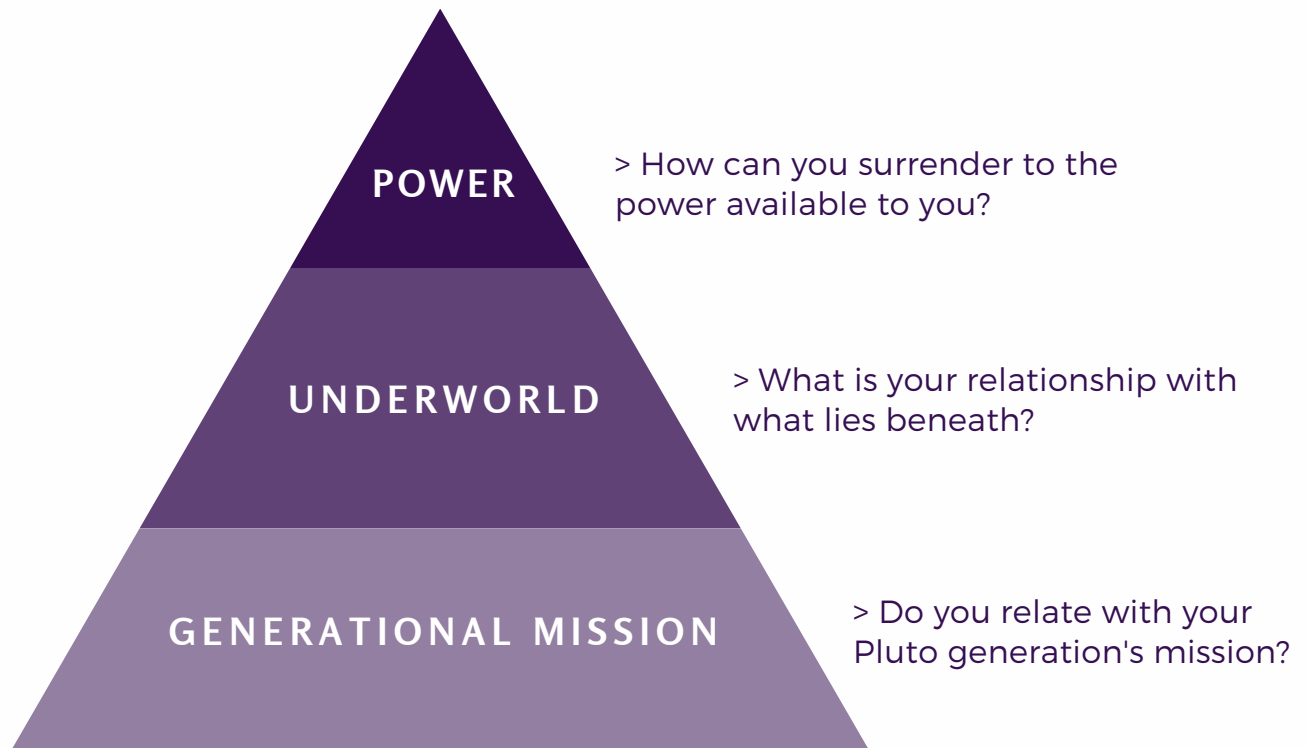

BRINGING THE GENERATIONAL PLANETS TOGETHER

Thinking about all three of the generational planets and where they are in your natal chart (signs and houses), what are some observations you can make about your generation, your role in your generation, and your capacity for innovation and freedom (Uranus), creative storytelling (Neptune), and powerful transformation (Pluto)?

Especially considering any personal planets or placements that are aspected by the outers, what do you suspect their influence is on how you show up in the world? (More on aspects next week, of course!)

REVIEW: PLUTO

Week 3

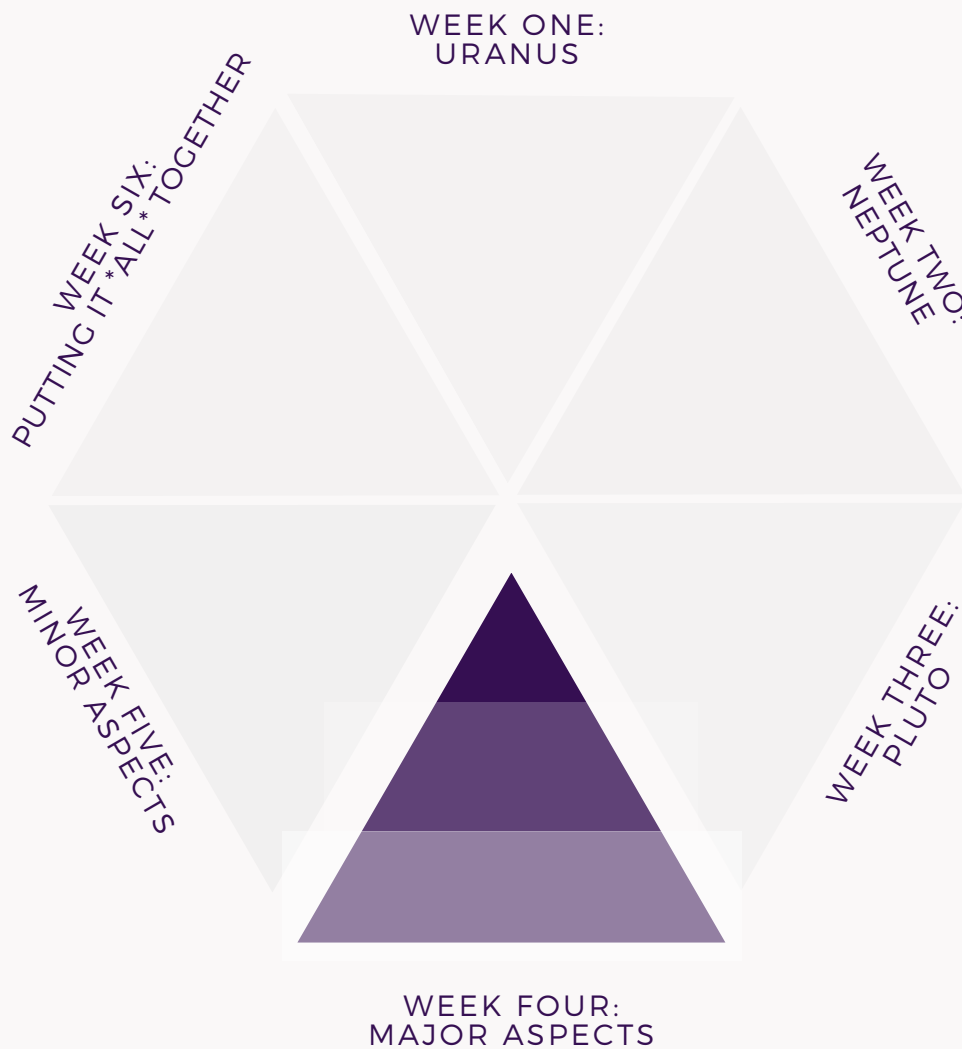

Pluto is rarely subtle. But it does take its time, making sure it's complete in its work of transforming everything it touches. How will you allow yourself to lean into Pluto's power? To tap into it so you can realize your own power too?

WEEK SIX MAGIC

PUTTING IT ALL TOGETHER

LET'S FLASH BACK TO WEEK 6 OF LEVEL 1 A4C

As you'll recall from A4C1, we wrapped up by aligning your logline. Revisit the Week 6 pages from your Level 1 workbook if you haven't already done so. We're now going to layer on the Level 2 components, and bring 'em all together during our final Zoom. Yay!

Things to consider:

- the type of journey your Life-Car is on
- the strength of your Chart Ruler's influence on your life
- the inner and social planets and how they influence who you are
- your North Node and where it's asking you to go
- what your MC and 10H are saying about your career expression
- your numerological signature (birth number, your name's number, any other energy you calculated in Level 1)
- the outer planets and what they say about your generation
- the aspects in your natal chart and how those relationships impact who you are
- what's NOT included in all of the above, when you consider how you'd describe yourself (let's find out where THAT is, in your natal chart... because it is in there)

REVISIT YOUR ALIGNED LOGLINE

Let's take a look at your logline from Level 1. Where does it offer opportunities to work into it some of the keywords that are now popping up for you, as you revisit the 7 traditionals and now add the 3 outers into the mix. Especially if you have interesting aspects between the outers and traditionals (and the angles!), let's consider ways to integrate what those relationships do to the whole picture of who you are!

WEEK SIX MAGIC

PUTTING IT ALL TOGETHER

WHAT ARE THE ASPECTS SAYING ABOUT YOU?

You've heard the story of my (Bonnie's) 15 natal squares. That's shorthand to any astrologer that my energy is pressurized. My ambition comes from tension. I GSD thanks to stress from planets in signs of the same modality as one another. When I layer on the fact that the majority of these relationships are Cardinal, there's really not much more to say in order to GET me.

What do the aspects in your chart say about who you are? You may not have a dominant pattern that makes it so very clear, but let's try a little exercise to see what's here. I'm sharing one of my Chart Ruler's 2 squares, as an example.

Planet & Sign	Aspect	Planet & Sign	Story
Venus in Leo	square	Saturn in Taurus	My gregarious and enthusiastic (Leo) planet of love and money (Venus) is stressed out by pressure (square) from my stubborn and consistent (Taurus) planet of structure and shoulds (Saturn).

WEEK SIX MAGIC

PUTTING IT ALL TOGETHER

AND NOW WE REFRAME

Of course, some of these patterns aren't right out of the box ready for a logline, right? Let's do some reframing on my story from the previous page.

My gregarious and enthusiastic (Leo) planet of love and money (Venus) is stressed out by pressure (square) from my stubborn and consistent (Taurus) planet of structure and shoulds (Saturn).

I will never let my boundless enthusiasm for all of my favorite things distract me from the structure that holds those things up. You won't see me get caught up on frivolous things... I'm going to look like an early adopter but the truth is: I always lurk then lead.

Use the next page (print off extras if you need more space, or, of course, use your journal) to try this out with your natal chart's relationships. Anything that's feeling sticky, bring it with you to our Zoom for some hot seat workout time! But make sure you at least start doing this exercise. You may surprise yourself at what you're able to understand about yourself through these patterns!

ONE MORE WEEK 6 A4C LEVEL 1 FLASHBACK

Revisit the instructions on the Level 1 Week 6 curriculum page at the Astrology for Creatives website for ideas about rhythm and syllables and alliteration and parts of speech — all of which should blend with your on-brand lingo (unless your brand is DOES NOT BLEND, EVER, of course).

If you're pretty happy with your Level 1 logline (or what it has become since then), no need to tweak just because we've connected with aspects and the outers in Level 2. Those are just components that may provide some pretty big a-ha moments you'll want to explore within your brand! Use them if they help you elevate your power while providing clarity about who you are and what you're here to do in life.

They may also simply deepen what you already know about who you are and what you're here to do. Often, the things we learn about ourselves through astrology and numerology and magic seem to run a highlighter over what we already suspect is true. Our charts confirm what we feel about ourselves. Hopefully, our charts also give us permission to live as our most elevated selves. The versions of ourselves we most enjoy getting to be.

Reflection

WEEK SIX MAGIC

PUTTING IT ALL TOGETHER

FINAL THOUGHTS ON YOUR ALIGNED LOGLINE

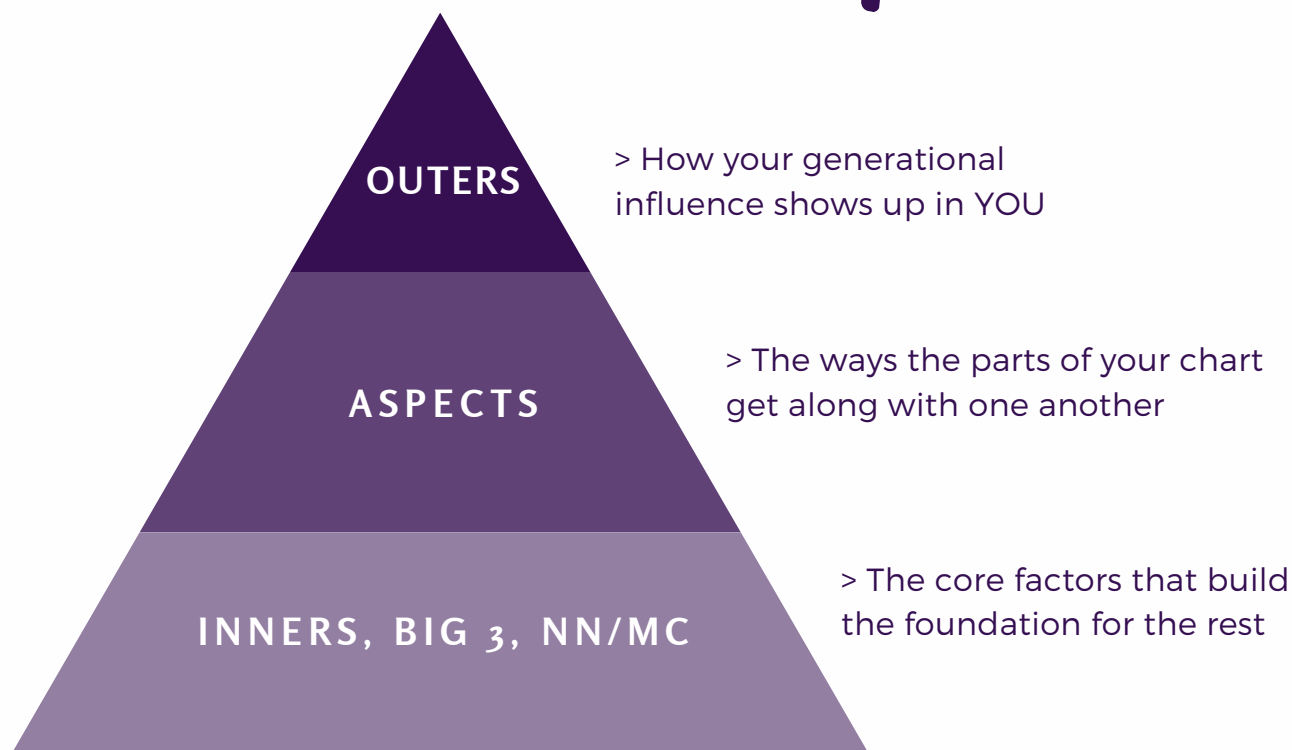

Your logline is always changing, because you are! Because the world is! Because your relationship with your own chart is! Let your logline evolve. Revisit it from time to time to see if perhaps it could use a little tweak. Especially if you're keeping up with the various transits you're experiencing, the shifts due to progression that are happening, what's up with your protected ruler and such... all of these things and more are reason to connect differently with yourself, with the world, and of course therefore with your logline.

It's possible that you may not need to bring the outers into your logline. It's also possible they're already there! The relationships between different parts of your chart are already in motion (always) so they certainly can be all wrapped up in your logline as well, possibly even without you having noticed!

You now have the tools to revisit any of your content -- logline, bio, about me, sales page language, emails, social media content, and more -- from the POV of your natal chart. You can -- at any time -- map out what you'd like to begin saying about yourself differently, just by tapping into these tools.

Week 6

There's no one right way to come upon your most aligned brand and marketing assets. Pick and choose from the delicious offerings your natal chart is always presenting to you. Use the pace of your Chart Ruler to try on different combinations. Have fun with this... because isn't FUN the whole point?

ANY QUESTIONS...

AS YOU COMPLETE ASTROLOGY FOR CREATIVES?

REMEMBER, WE'RE OFFERING ONGOING MEMBERSHIP.

We know, this workbook is already a bajilliondy pages long. (We told you, we can geek out on this stuff forEVER.) In case you have any questions before we close up our class offering, we're sharing a few more answers here.

Q: I'm still not sure what to focus on, now that I have all of this information. What's the right next step?

A: The good news is, there's no wrong answer to this question. You are now loaded with way more information about yourself than you had six weeks ago and that means you can take an informed guess about what to do next. If you're not yet ready to overhaul your website, update your bio, or shoot new photos to match the story of your aligned brand, that's totally fine! Pledge to spend a little time each week getting to know better the parts of your chart that intrigue or confuse you! Over time, you'll begin to receive clarity about where to shift your energy. Astrology is all about confirming what your gut already knows. You've got this!

Q: This has opened up a big ol' can o' worms. Can I go deeper with you?

A: Yes. Both Rachel and Bonnie offer 1:1 sessions. We're happy to meet with you to explore parts of your chart that need a little more attention. In a private session, there are many other directions we can go. We encourage you to book readings with other astrologers too! (Gasp! I know!) Learn from everyone. It's good for you!

Q: I feel thisclose to having my brand sorted out. May I repeat this course?

A: Absolutely! We're offering ongoing membership with monthly Zooms for the Aligned MCs (cute, right?) and if you stay on with us after this cohort, you will be able to repeat courses with us in future cohorts for no additional charge! It is included in your monthly, ongoing membership. Should you cancel your membership, you may repeat courses by enrolling as a brand new student in a future cohort, after which we'll invite you to become an Aligned MC once again. We treasure you and want to offer you all the support we have!
