The Chart Harmony Code

Keeping in mind that there are several important considerations in your birth chart that will factor into how the Chart Harmony colors show up in your life, here's the code for each of the 6 colors, followed by what it means to honor each of them. I've included a rulership/glyph decoder page from the plan•it planner to help.

NO PEOPLE! refill the well, nap, reflect, walk, do inner child work, eat comfort food, journal, get a massage, take a bath

BACK TO BASICS! declutter, fast, abstain; work on structure, systems, budgets, shoulds, lists; keep it simple; transform

BE SEEN! initiate, compete, work out hard, sing out, lead from the heart; get pierced or tattooed; do hot yoga; bask

MULTITASK! take meetings, talk it out, send out emails, do social media, livestream, shift gears, change it up, move fast

MONEY, HONEY! do housework, go on a date, collaborate, repair, host a dinner party, focus on love/beauty, magnetize

GET LUCKY! expansion, growth, magic, glee; take risks, make music, fantasize, dream, trust, play; go into the creative cave

The checkmark represents full-strength of that specific Chart Harmony color. The plus sign represents an increase in that color, but not enough to be a full-strength checkmark. Head over to our Discord to chat through how this is going for you!

excerpt from the plan•it planner

The Houses at a Glance

Here's your handy formula for basic astrology: The planet is the WHAT, the sign is HOW, and the house is the WHERE. Example: A Venus in Leo in the 11th House (Bonnie Gillespie) = all the loving and valuing and beautifying is done in a very grand, passionate, public way specifically in broader communities and in service of utopian, innovative, progressive visions for us all. As you build your Chart Harmony fluency, you'll begin to uncover your own statements!

NOTE: We all have all 12 houses! Also worth noting: Your 1st house (1H) is the one that hosts your Rising (Ascendant, ASC, AC, or AS, depending on what software or app you use to render your chart). 1H is the most PERSONAL of all 12 houses. All other houses have "co-stars" sharing the space!

Planetary Rulers

Each sign has a ruler. That's a planet whose energy is in charge of that sign's HOW (remember, the planet is the WHAT, the sign is the HOW, and the house is the WHERE it all shows up). Using traditional rulership, we've got 7 planets and luminaries that rule the 12 signs. What kind of energy is dominant in your chart? Which planets make up the vibe of your Life-Car? Are the nooks and crannies of your natal chart (and therefore your personality) starting to make more sense now?

You don't need to understand astrology, you just need...

Chart Harmony

TIP: A great way to get fluent in rulership is to note the ruling planet for each of the signs around your chartwheel, while you're doing all that labeling. Consider that your Chart Ruler is likely in a sign that is ruled by another planet. THAT combination actually flavors how your personality expresses (the house influences WHERE your energy is most focused). There are so many layers to this! I love it! I hope you're loving it too. Remember to come jam with us at the Chart Harmony Discord!

Use the Elements to Connect with the Moon

As we move through each lunar cycle, use the elements to help you find a rhythm to your activities. Schedule your creative idea spark sessions for Fire Moons. Get loads of items OFF your to-do list during Earth Moons. Use those Air Moons to express yourself clearly and confidently! And of course, use those Water Moons to restore your intuitive gifts. Let the elements guide you into Chart Harmony activities in organic ways!

Fire Moons

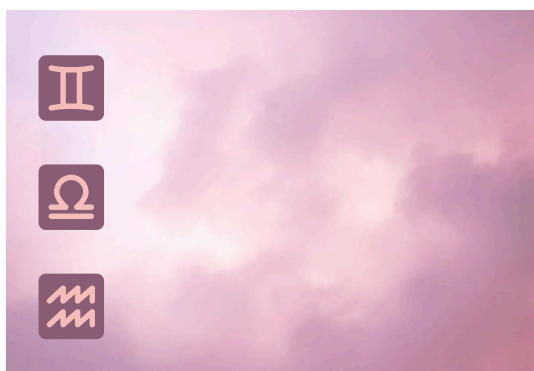

When the Moon moves through Fire signs, tap into your passion, motivate others, and keep moving. If it doesn't turn you on? Don't do it!

Earth Moons

Under the Earth sign Moons, be practical. Put in the work. Get physical. Connect with your health. Stick to your commitments. Get stuff done!

Air Moons

When the Moon enters Air signs, be ready to promote your big ideas, communicate and collaborate, talk it all up and write it all down!

Water Moons

As the Moon floats through Water signs, it's your float time too. Trust your gut, honor your needs, and feel your feelings. They're lovely!

Summer Chart Harmony Spread

A wonderful way to connect with the season ahead is through your favorite tarot or oracle cards. Without overthinking what you're asking of the cards or what they're asking of you, begin to shuffle your deck while considering the Sun signs of the season we're entering into.

- ◆ Cancer is our cardinal water sign. She is the intuitive leader.
- ◆ Leo is our fixed fire sign. He is the passionate upholder.
- ◆ Virgo is our mutable earth sign. She identifies, labels, and heals all.
- ◆ There is 1 unrepresented element in summer: AIR. How can you invite in air (communication) this season via pink Chart Harmony remedies?

While it is not our responsibility to balance out the 4 elements (or even the 3 modalities or any other components of the 12 signs of the zodiac), our ability to invite in what is not naturally showing up for us already is often all we need to learn how very powerful we are. While holding the intention of inviting in all that is for your best and highest good, welcome this clear and easeful communication.

Cancer New Moon Intentions

Friday, July 5th at 3:57pm PDT

The New Moon is the perfect opportunity to plant seeds that go with the most evolved qualities of the sign in which the New Moon is happening. Here's your guide for this month's lunation!

- ◆ 14°23' Cancer, in your _____ house
- ◆ wear BLUE to honor Mother Moon
- ◆ invite nurturing, self-care, tenderness
- ◆ involve moonstone; use chamomile
- ◆ treat your Cancer-ruled parts: breasts, diaphragm, womb, vagina, stomach

“I invite the intuition of this New Moon...”

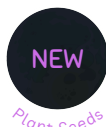

Whether you pull a tarot card, do an oracle card spread, or draw a sigil to feel more connected with your intentions, do a little sketch here to represent the visual component of today's ritual. Then write a thank-you note to your future self. You'll revisit this note at the Full Moon in Cancer on January 13th 2025.

2nd Capricorn Full Moon Release

Sunday, July 21st at 3:16am PDT

This particular Full Moon is special (well, they're all special, but this one is extra-special) because we've already had a Full Moon in Capricorn, just 1 month ago! Consider this a second chance for FULLY releasing anything you're clinging to in the Capricorn area of your life.

- 29°08' Capricorn, in your _____ house (see "The Houses" for details)
- treat your Capricorn-ruled parts: bones, joints, knees, skin, teeth, body hair

This lunar phase can be exhausting. It can also be stimulating. Tracking what's true for the Full Moon (no matter what sign it's in) can help you plan your life better! Circle/highlight accordingly.

JOYFUL APPRECIATIVE EMPOWERED TIRED
ENTHUSIASTIC FUN-LOVING PRESENT PROUD
STRONG ACTIVE LOVING PASSIONATE FREE
HAPPY OPTIMISTIC CENTERED HOPEFUL SAD
INSPIRED COURAGEOUS INTERESTED AMUSED
GRATEFUL DELIGHTED RELAXED CALM KIND
CONFIDENT CURIOUS FOCUSED SAFE WORTHY
CURIOUS THRILLED SELF-RESPECTING HEALTHY

LETTING GO FEELS...

In these boxes, write a little bit about any "stickiness" with this particular Full Moon release. What might you be resisting? (HINT: Capricorn Moon tends to feel safe via overwork.)

How was your Cancer season?

Sure, Cancer is the mother of the zodiac (in fact, she's the point of origin for what's called "the birth chart of the world"), but I like to think of her as the kind of mother RuPaul sings about in "Call Me Mother" (Runnin' my business, Boss comin' through, When I step in you know well what it do). She's fiercely protective. She will use that big-ass claw when cornered. But, yes... she will also hide deep in that shell (where she stores all her receipts) to avoid conflict. You're not imagining things: Cancer feels Ev.Er.Y.thing. It can be a lot.

Thinking back on Cancer season (June 20th to July 22nd), list off the Chart Harmony rituals that you will now practice whenever you need to connect with the self-care and tenderness-focused energy of Cancer and her ruler, Mother Moon.

Any Questions?

These lovely plan•it planner pages are already so wonderfully packed with info. Still, you may have questions! Here are some of the more common ones, answered, in case you find yourself asking 'em.

Q: Okay, so we're using Whole Sign Houses for our charts now?

A: Yep, to keep it simple, we're working with your chart using the Whole Sign House System! Placidus may be the default house system in the site or app you typically use to render your chart, and that's certainly fine for interpreting your chart on your own. In using the much longer-ago established Whole Sign House System, we're assuring the most straightforward way for you to SEE yourself in the stars. The Whole Sign House System democratizes where you were born (no more advantaging the royals who paid the astrologers) while making calculations far more straightforward, because each house starts at the same place a new sign starts. Yay!

Q: I don't know my exact time of birth. Am I screwed?

A: Not at all! Ideally, you'll be able to find out what time you were born from your birth certificate or by checking with a member of your family who remembers some details about the event, like whether the sun had come up yet! Some folks have luck calling the hospital at which they were born to access their archived records. If these options don't work out for you, there is a process called rectification that some astrologers are able to do for a fee. This is a process of studying several significant events in your life while interviewing you to determine the most likely range of birth times. For now, work with what you have! If you're not able to get your birth time sorted out, you can still have a wonderful experience getting to know yourself better. You won't be sure of your RISING, which means the houses may all feel off for you, but you'll have the planets in their right signs, and that's plenty to get aligned for an exploration that serves you well. For the sake of rendering your chart without knowing the time, choose a birth time that puts your Moon or your Sun in the 1st house. If you don't know how to do that, just choose sunrise.

Q: There's a tiny R next to one of the planets on my chartwheel. What does this mean?

A: That R indicates retrograde illusion (the varying orbit shapes and speeds of planets we're not living on making it appear as if they're moving backward from time to time as we ALL orbit the Sun). Any planet on your chartwheel with a tiny R next to it was retrograde at the time of your birth. The fun part about this is that when that same planet goes retrograde throughout your life, you're actually less distressed by its effects than other folks may be. Overall, the WHAT of that planet will likely have your focus turned more inward. Also, your development in the area of that planet's WHAT may be later in life. (Remember: The planet is the WHAT, the sign is the HOW, the house is the WHERE it all shows up in your life.)

Q: Nearly half of my houses are totally empty on the chartwheel. What does this mean?

A: It actually means you're like most people. ;) The typical experience is to have a few planets or placements clustering in one quadrant of your chart or even together in a single sign or house "stellium" (clumping our lessons and gifts so they can serve one another and experience transits with similar timing) and then open spaces. Of course, even "empty" houses are in specific signs in your natal chart, so there's definitely energy there! In fact, depending on what's directly opposite that house on the chartwheel, that "empty" energy could be exactly what you're meant to use to balance out all that activity on the other side of your chart. Cool, huh?

Final Thoughts...

I often hear that astrology is overwhelming. So many signs and planets and houses (Oh, my!) and that's before we even get into aspects and transits and retrogrades and fixed stars and annual profections and secondary progressions and zodiacal releasing and firdaria and, and, and.

This is why I adore bringing my childhood love of astrological storytelling into the here and now. We can make meaning of so many of the parts of our charts! But the whole point of this exploration is for us to be empowered, to have sovereignty, to lean into what we may already be feeling is right... confident that it's exactly what our souls intended that we do!

While I believe in magic, I also love data. I love tracking patterns. And I especially love when I notice that data backs up something magical. The placebo effect is scientifically backed. Even when we know we're taking a placebo for a headache, the brain will send signals that relieve us from perceived pain. So while some folks may roll their eyes at my adherence to planetary hours or about some of the rituals I swear by in order to achieve Chart Harmony, I know what works for me. Hopefully you're now feeling more confident around your woo-curious setpoint, too.

And when you get turned around? Just come back to these tools. Connect with the work you've put into this with me, align with the energies that are here to support you, and breathe. Trust your KNOWING. You've got this!

...and Fine Print

Like Mother, Like Daughter

Faced with no career and no college degree, my resourceful, suddenly-single mother Charlsie decided that the hobby she had picked up — to explore WHY she ended up having an unplanned late-in-life baby (me) and WHY her husband of 28 years bailed — might be more than just a hobby. She booked her first paid reading in 1977 and earned $20. Twenty years later, the Oprah folks called to book her on the show's "Remembering Your Spirit" segment. Charlsie's enoughness was low, so of course she said no.

As a kid growing up, I remember coming home from school, bullied, and instead of the usual, "Oh, honey, they're just jealous," my mother would say, "Oh, honey, you know your Venus is afflicted in Leo." I've spent my life very much aware of the rhythms of planetary influence and certainly how the Moon can make one day a brilliant get-sh*t-done day and then it slides into a sign that makes everything feel sloth-like.

Over time, I've gotten less private about my woo-woo upbringing as my showbiz clients have asked, "What does it mean when you say that about how you decide it's the right time to do X or Y or Z?" and so I share a little bit here and there and, well, we've now reached a point where it's such a thing that I have creatives booking coaching sessions with me NOT just to do the Self-Management for Actors work on which I've built my empire, but to have their charts done! Turns out I'm really good at it. So... Chart Harmony is a reclaiming of my New Age childhood. And a tribute to my mom.

I promise not to say no when Oprah calls.

There's this saying that the definition of HELL is meeting the version of yourself you could've been.

I like to think we all have many versions of ourselves available throughout our lives.

And the more time we spend being the versions of ourselves that we most love being, the less likely we ever encounter a place like that.
