You
 ARE IN THE RIGHT PLACE IF...

1. You love your creative career, but at times it feels way HARDER than it has to be.
2. You regularly doubt your gut instincts, while you also feel you could trust yourself more..
3. You know you're talented and ready for success, yet there seems to be something blocking you from hitting that next tier.

Get in Gear

You know there's a version of you who has it all together. This version of you – the one you sometimes get glimpses of, the one who flirts with all the success and creativity and FUN this life holds – has a sense of confidence about who you are as an artist, a sense of ease about "effort" when it comes to connecting with potential buyers, a sense of calm about things that used to feel incredibly frantic and out of control.

While you may wonder what the secret is, to get to BECOME this next-tier you, we know that this version of you exists RIGHT NOW and not just for quick bursts of time here and there. This version of you just needs more attention than you've been getting.

And that's, at its core, what our work together is all about.

You KNOW there's a better you on the other side of some blocks that do NOT have to stick around and have such power over you! Never been able to create or maintain a relationship-tracking show bible? We've got you. Never quite been able to understand why your type and brand don't feel like the most castable version of the storyteller you were born to be? We've got you. Never enjoyed that whole schmoozing thing – online or in real life? We've got you.

It's time for you to step into the unfair advantage in this creative life that is simply BEING ON YOUR OWN DAMN SIDE for a change.

Sounds simple... and we have hundreds of Get in Gear graduates experiencing life like they've never before dreamed could be possible to back this up: Showing up for yourself WILL change everything.

A favorite pen. Your journal. Stickers if that's your jam! Goodies that help you have fun with this workbook, this free training, and the process of engaging with your business in this way.

2 PRINTED PAGES

You don't need to print out this whole workbook (certainly, you can) but you do need to print out the page(s) with the Venn diagram(s).

3 "TRUE NORTH" INFO

If you've not yet done my "true north" visualization, you'll want to click here to get to a video tutorial so you can do some future tripping and goal setting!

4 YOUR BLOCKS

I know. It's crazy for me to ask you to be sure to bring your blocks, struggles, and stresses to this free training. Trust me. We're gonna reframe those suckers together!

MAKE A DATE TO MEET NEXT-TIER YOU

Okay. So... your recipe for becoming next-tier YOU has 3 must-have ingredients: Mindset, Relationships, and Tools. Each of those 3 ingredients has at least 3 essential elements. And where these elements overlap, we have combined factors that are the basis for long-term success in a creative life (your brand umbrella, healthy boundaries, and consistency).

Are you feeling more ready to tackle what's ahead for you? Did today's free training give you any insight into which of your ingredients needs fortifying? And are you willing to show up for yourself as you build these elements UP in healthy and sustainable ways?

When you feel yourself getting twitchy about any of this, remember that your True North + Talent + Time are always humming in the background. Time? That's passing no matter what we do. Talent? That's a given. Keep your craft in shape through a regular workout. True North? You'll find this will get more in-focus as you move toward it. Don't be afraid to recalibrate!

Promise yourself you'll show up for yourself to do the work of keeping all of these ingredients HEALTHY and topped off! Be sure you have a great community to check in with. Create a commitment to next-tier you – whether you're doing so as a part of our legendary 100-day challenge or not.

Most of all, tune into next-tier you and then TRUST YOURSELF!

That will always lead you to doing the work that matters so that you can merge with the next-tier version of yourself we all know exists!

Overwhelm is a luxury label for staying stuck.

TANYA PEREZ

I had been working in this business for 10 years and only got so far with little knowledge of the business side before I met Bonnie Gillespie. Her specific approach to marketing yourself as a viable commodity in show business is by far the most comprehensive skill I have taken away from this work, in an environment that is supportive and creative.

KIM ESTES, EMMY WINNER

I am always enough! And I thank Bonnie Gillespie for always reinforcing that! It's a real pleasure and a real privilege to work with Bonnie. She's no fluff. Pure honesty. Bonnie energizes her colleagues and tells it like it is while envisioning how it should be.

STEF DAWSON

I highly recommend anyone take classes with Bonnie. It's the best thing I could've done when I landed. I say that to everyone because it was exactly what I needed. It bridged the gap for me. I arrived to LA with training and work behind me, but what I desperately needed was knowledge of the business and how things work. Work with Bonnie. You'll hit the ground running like I did!
